

Choirs join for mass show

HUME Sings joined with 12 other choirs at Melbourne Town Hall for With One Big Voice, a mass choir performance.

Hume Sings choir member Rane Abanilla said the performance was phenomenal. "Hume Sings, while fairly new with only a handful of members, sang Island Home with Footscray Sings," she said.

The choir, formed earlier this year, is calling for more members.

"Our group is composed of people from diverse backgrounds who love to sing under the weekly social inclusion choir program."

We would love to see more residents from Hume join us in finding our voice in the community

RANEE ABANILLA

”

The group practises every Wednesday from 5.15-6.30pm at the St Dominic's Primary School library in Broadmeadows. Ms Abanilla said anyone could sing because there was strength in numbers.

"We would love to see more residents from Hume join us in finding our voice in the community to improve individual and community wellbeing, reduce social isolation and assist to improve employment pathways for the unemployed." Details: 0409 968 484

In tune are Hume Sings choir members Joe Thompson, Bridget Beckett, Rane Abanilla, Neil Strapp and Shirley Kociuba. N23H0815

